

Roxanne Michaud

Forest Technologist

- ROXANNE holds a Diploma in Forest Technology from the Maritime College of Forest Technology, Bathurst Campus.
- She began her career as a forest technologist at NHRI. Prior to graduation, she worked at J.D. Irving Ltd., in customer service and on the plantation department.
- At NHRI, Roxanne works in a team under the supervision of the forester and the team leader. She participates in selected research projects. With its partners and NHRI staff, she contributes to implementing NHRI tools and ensuring their success. She participates in mobilization activities and works with specialists, partners, members and clients to propose other solutions and thus brings added value to NHRI partners.
- When she is not at work, Roxanne enjoys walking in the forest and snowshoeing.